WALLACEA
DIVE CRUISES

The main highlight of the area is the gorgeous abundance of life, both the fixed fauna such as corals and gorgonians and the stunning abundance of fish. Trevallies, barracudas, bump-head parrotfish, spadefish, surgeonfish, fusiliers often form big schools on the reefs. Mantas rays are generally present on at least two dive sites, and encounters with bigger fishes as tunas, Spanish mackerels, reef sharks and the “carpet shark” - Wobbegong - are frequent.

That's a 3-in-1 package of gems.

1 Ring of Fire

The Banda Sea is characterised by a generally very good visibility. Warm waters. On the top 5 areas to encounter Squat-headed and Scalloped Hammerheads, most of the time in large shoals, our cruises will take you to remote spots for an unforgettable diving-with-schools-of-hammerhead sharks experience.

Whales also frequently pass through the strait. Walls, drop-offs, and pinnacles so colorful and so healthy!

2 Triton Bay

The beauty of its amazing soft corals that stick out to the surface is definitely one of the major marine attractions in Triton Bay. There are over 959 different kinds of coral fish and 471 known types of coral in this area. The other highlights include black coral forests, overflowing schools of sweetlips, vibrant macro lives, and a good chance to encounter whale sharks on “bagan”—the fishing platforms where these giants come to visit from time to time.

3 Misool

Excellent wide-angle, amazing biodiversity with lots of fish. Colourful soft corals and macro. World class diving sites!

Raja Ampat has often been qualified as the “last frontier” and this is really the feeling you will get in this area: one of the rare untouched places on earth. The topographies of the dive sites are also very diverse and interesting: pinnacles, ridges, walls, caves, rock formations and lagoons...

Some of the species

- Squat-headed and Scalloped Hammerheads (most of the time in large shoals), whale sharks, Barracudas, surgeonfishes, Bumphead parrotfish, Trevallies and giant trevallies, spadefish. Napoleon wrasse, wobbegong, tunas, bonitos, Manta rays, mobulas
- Seahorse, frogfish, leaf fish, scorpionfish
- Black corals forests, gorgonian fields, soft corals, gorgonian fields and so much more...

Diving part

Currents

Currents are constant on a number of dives while some others are really quiet. Some dives on reefs or pinnacles have to be done on the current exposed side in order to enjoy the best fish life and can therefore be slightly "sporty". Our dive guides always check the current conditions before the dive and will inform you of the conditions. A reef hook is recommended.

Number of dives

During your cruise you will perform a minimum of 44 dives:

- * 1 dive-guide/ 4 divers maximum (4 guides/16 divers)
- * Free nitrox for certified divers (possibility of certification on board)
- * 3 fibreglass tenders
- * Our great crew is at your service to carry your tank and gear

Visibility

In Raja Ampat and Triton Bay's waters are dense and visibility can rapidly change. Commonly you can see 20 meters away, but visibility can diminish in certain areas or punctually. In the Banda Sea, visibility is good up to excellent and can reach 50 meters!

Water temperature

Water temperature is 28-29 °C in the all area.

An amazing ride with the dinghies into the channels between forest covered quartz islets will allow us to hear and see cacatoes and hornbills while turtles and rays are into just about 2 meters of water. We will also observe an impressive display of primitive rock arts on a cliff. Leaving Triton bay and crossing to Misool, we will dive the small archipelago of Pisang islands (walls, pinacles, numerous eagle and marble rays) before to reach Misool where stand the most beautiful dives of Raja Ampat.

Our cruises including Triton Bay & Misool offer some of the most beautiful dives in Indonesia with an incredible diversity. There are an interesting alternative for the divers who already dove the Raja Ampat.

In Triton Bay, the black coral forests, the incredible giant soft corals reaching up to the surface, and the abundance of critters will delight the most demanding divers. The ice on the cake are the whale sharks that stay under the fishing plateforms called "bagans".

Some of the species:

- Whale sharks, Barracudas, Surgeonfishes, Bumphead parrot fishes, Trevallies and giant trevallies, spadefishes, Napoleon wrasse, wobbegongs, tunas, bonitos, manta rays, marble rays eagle rays, mobulas, walking sharks, zebra sharks, etc..
- Seahorse, frogfish, leaf fish, scorpionfish, ghost pipe fish, coleman shrimps, etc...

- Black corals forests, gorgonian fields, soft corals , gorgonian fields,

Navigation and itinerary

On the right the map showing the cruise itinerary. The itinerary varies slightly between each cruise depending on weather conditions, currents, visibility and diving. Distances are relatively short: only two full nights of sailing, the others taking place between dives or during very early morning. See the full program here

Weather

The weather is rather variable; even if it is the "dry" season in this region can be expected to rainfall showers. Temperatures of about 30 ° C. Generally calm sea with a few temporary storms; slight swell in the most

Banda sea

We chose the Banda Islands as a strong point of this unique cruise for their historical past (former Dutch counter starting point of a road with spices) and yet still uncrowded. We should have the opportunity to visit the village and the fort of Banda Neira as well spice plantations, sourcing from local producers and admire the many mandarin fish in the port.

Misool

Excellent for the wide angle, undersea life, mantas, lots of fishes... Very coloured soft corals and gorgonas fields. Macro subjects nonetheless with many small seahorses.

Diving organisation on MV Ambai

Number of dives (minimum 44)

- No diving the day of departure
- 3 dives / day every day of the cruise - one dive is usually sacrificed for land excursion to Wayag-, and another one eventually for the Bird of paradise excursion.
- 6 Night dives.
- 1 dive the day before disembarking, maybe 2 according to your flight schedule (24h/No FLY).

Schedule & standards

- | | |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------|
| • 1st dive:.....07:00am | • Dive time: 60 minutes |
| • 2nd dive: 10:30am | • Maximum Depth : 35 meters |
| • 3rd dive:02:30pm | • Dives into the safety curves |
| • Night dive: 06:30pm | • Bearing systematic security |

Due to the large number of dives and the remoteness of the location, we urge divers to stay within the safety curve, to comply with a maximum depth of 35 meters, and to systematically perform a safety stop.

Depending on the guests dive experience, aspirations (photography, macro, etc), and eventual use of nitrox (free for certified divers), the cruise director will arrange the diving groups. These groups are made up of four divers and a dive guide. The dive guides are rotating on a daily basis. Each diver is given a dive tank (DIN & INT available, no need for adapters) and a single location for the duration of the cruise.

A briefing will be conducted by the director of cruises or one of the guides before each dive. It will provide guidance on the site topography, depths, currents and potential hazards, as well as on marine life and the species represented.

The staff carries your tank between the MV Ambai and the dinghies and back. to the dinghies, tanks are disposed in slots and the guide will help you to gear just before to roll back for the dive.

Identification books of flora and local fauna are available on board, and the dive guides or the skipper will always help you to identify the strange animal you just saw underwater!

* There are some dive equipment to rent on board: However, all sizes are not necessarily available, so please book for it before the cruise.

* Our cruises are open to divers Padi Advanced Level 2 or equivalent with at least 50 dives logged. Less experienced divers can also participate with a specific supervision that have to be arranged before the cruise.

* An insurance covering medical evacuation and diving accidents is highly recommended. We will request the participants to fill up on board a statement of fitness for the dive activities.

*We will ask you to carefully respect the fauna and flora: have adequate buoyancy to avoid touching the substrate or break any corals; do not touch the animals, do not collect anything; do not to harass wildlife to photography and moderate the number of flashes you impose on them. The use of gloves is not allowed.

*The divers should always carry a marker buoy.

*Thank you to read our rules of diving here. By booking a cruise with Wallacea you agree with these few basic rules.
